Curtis Fielding holds a well-travelled helium-filled balloon which his family found recently on Mountain Lake. The printing on the balloon indicates it was part of a promotion for a store in Bowling Green, Kentucky. Marg Fielding, seen here with Curtis and her daughter Erin, telephoned the store to authenticate the finding and was told the balloon had been released accidentally two and a half days earlier.

Request backed, but no trade-off

A resolution supporting the application to Haliburton County Council made by the Agnes Jamieson Gallery for a grant has been endorsed by the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council. However, the council refused to endorse a suggestion by councillor Gary Kenney that the municipal representatives consider opposing the application made by the Rails' End Gallery for support, if the Minden facility did not receive in his words, "similar treatment."

The matter was raised at the February 9 meeting of the council when Kenney, the municipality's representative on the gallery's board of directors, tabled the two part motion. While the councillors at the table were in favour of supporting the application made by the gallery, all were hesitant to endorse the suggestion that support for the Rails' End Gallery application should be tied to how successful the Agnes Jamieson Gallery request was.

Kenney told the meeting the application had been endorsed unanimously by the Jamieson Gallery board couldn't do it. I would want to avoid a trade-off situation."

"I can't support the resolution as it was presented," Pergolas stated. "I support the gallery."

Kenney said, "I am just looking for similar treatment for the local gallery. I am not trying to belittle the Rails' End Gallery. I just feel that similar treatment should be accorded to both facilities."

Councillor Dave Stevens agreed with Pergolas saying the resolution created a "trade-off situation."

Pergolas said the resolution, if endorsed, would put him in "an awkward situation. It could do more harm than good," he added.

Kenney said the allocation of grants at the county level involved political decisions. He said everyone involved was aware of that and he just wanted to bring the situation out into the open.

Reeve Lyle McKnight, who serves as Warden of the county, said that Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas must use his discretion when dealing with matters before him at

Council questions AMO benefits

Further investigation of the benefits to be obtained will be required before the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council agrees to spend $538 to join the Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO). The decision to investigate the organization further came at the February 9 meeting.

The councillors were told that an organization representing rural municipalities in the province has been absorbed by AMO. As a result, all smaller municipalities were receiving AMO bulletins and material. However, that practice has now stopped and only those who are members of the association will receive the material.

AMO is an association which represents member municipalities throughout the province. It lobbies the provincial and federal governments on matters of municipal interest.

Councillor Gary Kenney said the cutback in road subsidy offered an example of how the association could lobby on behalf of all municipalities. He pointed out that while Anson, Hindon and Minden is not a member of the association, it still benefits from the group's lobbying. He suggested the municipality was enjoying a "free ride" and should be willing to pay its dues.

Councillor Pat Burk asked how the townships would benefit in joining the organization. Councillor Kenney suggested it would not necessarily be a "visible" benefit, but rather participation in a major jobby group for Ontario municipipalities.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas suggested that the costs of joining would go beyond the registration fee. "We would benefit very little and the costs indicated are just the tip of the iceberg," Pergolas stated. "There will be costs for conferences and more." He suggested membership in the organization could cost more than one thousand dollars.

A motion to join the organization was defeated with Councillor Kenney being the only one voting in favour. The council did agree to obtain more information on AMO. This will include talking to representatives of other county municipalities which are members of AMO.

Zone leaders chosen

The Minden Neighbourhood Watch committee continues to make progress in establishing a program in the community.

At a meeting held in the library of the Archie Stouffer School on Thursday evening, zone leaders were chosen from a list of volunteers. At present Minden is divided into four zones. The centre of the zone plan is the junction of the Gull River and the Bobcaygeon Road. An additional zone is being considered for the Bobcaygeon Road north of Minden.

Constable Gary Chapman of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police is assisting the committee to initiate the Neighbourhood Watch program. Constable Chapman outlined the responsibilities of zone leaders and block captains. Zone leaders help to select block captains, attend training sessions conducted by the police and hold meetings approximately three times a year with other zone leaders to discuss problems and procedures.

Block captains supervise citizen participation in their designated block, hold meetings in their homes, serve as a liaison between neighbours and the police and attend training sessions.

Constable Chapman

pointed out that the Neighbourhood Watch network works both ways. Members of Neighbourhood Watch can phone the police when they see a crime being committed or notify the police of any suspicious activities. As well the police can contact zone leaders if a child is lost. The zone leaders can then contact other members of the program throughout the community to aid in the search for the child.

Committee chairman Gordon Monk expressed the hope that the youth of the community would become involved since they of directors. He noted the gallery provides a year-round program attracting visitors to the community and county. The membership of the gallery's board of directors includes individuals who do not reside in the municipality, he pointed out.

The councillor said the grant money would be used to improve the storage facilities at the gallery, catalogue the permanent collection at the gallery, and other improvements to the facility. He said the resolution of support would mean a great deal to the members of the gallery.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas commented, "If you are asking me to make a trade (support for Rails' End in return for support for the Jamieson application) I county council. His decisions are based on the facts presented. "Your resolution is directing him. You must have confidence in him."

Kenney said he was willing to break the resolution into two sections, the first endorsing the application made by the gallery's board, the second requesting similar treatment.

Councillor Dave Stevens said the second part of the resolution would result in other members of the county council being angered and as a result, "the Agnes Jamieson Gallery would end up with nothing."

Kenney said he was willing to let the second part of his resolution go untested at the meeting. "I'll just wait and see what happens," he commented.

Stanhope road subsidy cut 6.7% by MTC

Stanhope Township's annual road subsidy has been cut back for 1984. The announcement of the subsidy was made in a letter from the Minister of Transportation and Communications James Snow. The MTC subsidy is used for the maintenance and construction of roads and bridges in the township.

In 1983 the township received a subsidy of $152,000. The township was required to provide an additional $62,000 to qualify for the subsidy. The 1984 subsidy of $144,900 represents a 6.7% decrease from last year. Although the overall budget for this year has been reduced to $210,000 the township must raise $3,200 more than last year as part of the agreement between the township and the MTC. The township can apply for supplementary grants which will cover 53% of additional work in 1984.

Rejects radar

Stanhope Council has turned down a request by former Warden Bill Howe to purchase a mobile radar unit for the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police. The former Warden had requested that all municipalities in the county contribute funds to purchase the unit at an estimated cost of $2500.

During a discussion of the proposal councillor Ann Barker commented that 'I would like to see a radar unit in this area,' but added, 'There are many other ways they (OPP) could get funds for the unit. The councillor criticized the fact that 'taxpayers have to supply the police with equipment they should already be supplied with.' Deputy Reeve Elgin Stouffer was the only one to vote in favour of the purchase, arguing that "On the balance I think it would be a good idea" and added "It would give the police the impression that we support them."

Bus radios

Council also turned down a request from the Haliburton Board of Education to subsidize the purchase of mobile radios for school buses.

Stanhope Township's share of the subsidy would be about 10% or $800.00. Former Stanhope Reeve Jim Harrison who addressed council on the matter stated that "the intent of radios in the buses is a good idea" but added that he was "objecting to subsidizing private business." Mr. Harrison suggested that the provincial government should purchase the mobile radios.

Council members agreed with Mr. Harrison and instructed the municipal clerk to advise the Board of Education that the Council is opposed to the purchase of the radios where 50% of the costs are absorbed by the municipalities.

Work grants

Stanhope Township will be participating in three government-sponsored work programs in 1984.

Work has already begun on projects covered by the Canada Works Program that is subsidized by Employment and Immigration Canada. Two people have been hired for the ten week program which began on Monday. The employees will be painting signs and building interiors as well as pre-cutting material for a shelter to be erected this summer on the recreational field behind the Stanhope Community Centre.

The township will also be submitting applications for the Summer Canada Works program which will provide employment in the township for students who will be continuing their education. The program applies to any student who is enrolled in a recognized educational institution such as a secondary school, university or community college. The township will be hiring three students for an eight week period during the summer.

Stanhope will also be participating in the Environment 2000 Program. Under the federal program conservation projects will be carried out in the township. Priority will be given to forest renewal projects but other projects to clean up waterways and expand or create parks will also be covered by the program.

It is expected that three people between the ages of 16 - 24 will be hired for the program which will last from 16 - 20 weeks.

Council briefs

Items from the February 9 meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

Tenders

A contract for electrical work to be carried out as part of the expansion of the municipal office was awarded at the meeting.

The municipal offices are being enlarged and changed to take in the space recently vacated by the Minden ambulance service.

The electrical portion of the work was awarded to Minden Electric. The bid submitted by the company of $2090, was the lowest of three received.

Tender call

The municipality plans to purchase eight street lights for installation in the Highland Gates Estates subdivision. Tenders for the fixtures, which will be installed by Ontario Hydro, will be offered to local contractors.

Watch Meeting

are "out and about" in the neighbourhood. The chairman also pointed out to those attending the meeting that being a member of the Community Watch program has very little effect on the lifestyle of the citizens who are involved.

On Wednesday, February 22 zone leaders and block captains will be meeting at 6:30 at the Archie Stouffer School. The meeting will be open to the public.

Dump management

Council passed a by law to authorize an agreement between the municipality and William Simmeron to manage the Scotch Line landfill site. Under the agreement all Ministry of the Environment regulations must be adhered to, fires will not be allowed, metal must be separated from other refuse, and the Scotch Line Road adjacent to the landfill site must be kept free of debris. The municipality will continue to supply fill for the land fill site.

50 jobs

On February 20 a job creation program employing up to 50 workers will begin in Hindon Township. The program which will be administered by the municipality will be funded by the Unemployment Insurance Commission and the provincial government.

Individuals who are presently collecting UIC benefits in the municipality will qualify for the program. Working under the supervision of the Ministry of Natural Resources, employees will construct access roads to forests in Hindon Township. The program will be terminated at the end of March.

Buying policy

Council passed a resolution introducing a policy that all purchases over $500 should be bought by tender, where applicable, under the guidance of the financial committee. In instances where equipment is needed immediately or if the municipality decides to deal with the original supplier to carry out repairs, the policy of calling for tenders would not apply.

Grant received

The Ministry of Environment has approved a grant to the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden to carry out thinning operations in areas designated by the MNR. The project which is funded by the Environment 2000 program will include the removal of poplar and white birch to encourage the growth of white pine.

Hydro tools stolen

Thieves left this gaping hole in the fence surrounding the Ontario Hydro compound Tuesday morning after stealing a large quantity of equipment and supplies from the trucks parked in the yard. Taken in the break-in were chain saws, drills, copper wire, ropes and tool boxes at an estimated value of $1500. $500 damage was done to the vehicles. None of the locked buildings was entered.

Authorities believe that two or more intruders were involved in the theft. It is also believed that the culprits used wire cutters found on one of the trucks to cut the hole in the fence.

The stolen goods were carried away in a vehicle parked behind the Moynes Furniture Store on Highway 35.

The matter is under investigation by the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Fire agreement sought

An agreement between the municipality and the Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home is being prepared to cover the cost of answering fire calls.

Fire Chief Deac Jackson informed council that the Home has asked for the approval of council to charge for the services of the fire department. Chief Jackson reported that there have been seven fire alarms at the Home this year, all of which were false alarms. He added that of 39 calls to the Home, one call involved a burned out motor which activated a smoke detector, but the rest of the calls were false alarms.

The fire chief explained that condensation can cause the alarm to be set off by creating a break in the continuity of the system.

The Hyland Crest Home has requested that an agreement be drawn up with the fire department to cover the costs for two men and a fire truck. Chief Jackson stated that a minimum of four firemen were needed to operate the fire equipment and that this minimum requirement would have to be considered in drawing up an agreement.

Council agreed that after costs are determined a contract will be submitted to the administration of the Hyland Crest.

Concern expressed over subsidy cut

Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council has forwarded a letter to the Minister of Transportation and Communications expressing concern over the reduction in the grant allocation for roads work in 1984.

In 1983 the municipality had to budget $329,000 in order to receive $194,000 in MTC assistance. In 1984 the municipality is required to budget $344,000 in order to receive $190,000 of assistance.

The letter points out that "This translates into a direct burden of an additional $18,200 that must be met by our municipality's rate payers just to maintain 1983's level of roads services without consideration of inflationary adjustment to reflect 1984 costs."

The letter continues "we fail to understand how the allocation announced for Anson, Hindon and Minden can adequately address the normal rise in costs from year to year, and the need to at least maintain a level of service consistent with the previous year."

In the conclusion of the letter council asks for the Minister's attention to the matter "as it will clearly affect our attempts to maintain policies of restraint that originate from provincial directives."

Dispute over Ingoldsby shoreline closing

A proposal to close a portion of shoreline allowance on Lake Kashagawigamog in Ingoldsby has resulted in a protest from a large number of area residents. Those proposing the closure and the opponents appeared before Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council February 9.

The closing had been requested by members of the Hill family. They own property abutting a section of Ingoldsby known as Pine Point. Jack Hill, representing the family, said the area in question between their property and the lake had become a haven for noisy parties. He said that huge bonfires are lit, those attending trespass onto his own and neighbouring property to gather firewood damaging trees in the process. He said the partygoers inevitably left a great deal of litter behind. "This sort of action constitutes harassment," he said.

Linda Schrader spoke on behalf of the Ingoldsby residents. She said a petition bearing 49 names had been presented to the council supporting their position. She said residents had been using the land in question as a beach for generations. She said that at times members of the Hill family would harass swimmers. The spokesman said it was a safe public beach and the closing of the property would deny access to them.

Both sides in the dispute agreed that a suitable beach was required in the Ingoldsby area, but where it might be located was a matter of contention.

Because of the disagreement, the council agreed to give the by-law only first reading. The matter would be set aside until conditions permit the councillors to visit the location and view the property. At the same time the council requested the parks department consider the possibility of creating a public beach in the Ingoldsby area. Representatives of both sides in the issue will be notified when the council holds an on-site inspection.

On its merits

Members of Minden council acted correctly in suppressing a suggestion that their county council representatives apply a particular formula to the allocation of grants to the county's two art galleries.

The resolution, proposed by Councillor Gary Kenney, suggested the county representatives apply a formula which would ensure the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden receive "similar treatment" as the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton when the grant applications are considered.

In one regard the resolution was redundant. The county council receives grant requests from a number of county organizations. In considering who gets how much, the county will take into consideration a number of elements including, need, the amount requested, impact the organization has on the county, and the amount of funds available. In assessing these variables, it is reasonable to assume that members of the council will give each application a fair hearing. It may not amount to "similar treatment" because, for example, the need of one organization may be greater than another, but with the many points of view offered at the county level, we feel the outcome will at least be a reasonable one.

The resolution, while "suggesting" the county representatives ensure the Minden gallery receive similar treatment accorded to the Haliburton facility implies, as several councillors noted, a barter situation. It implies, although it does not state precisely, that representatives should withhold approval of one grant, if an adequate amount is not given to the other. If this policy were employed in all deliberations we suggest the entire budget preparation process would grind to a halt. It also ignores the duty entrusted to county representatives to spend tax dollars in a responsible and careful manner.

Each request for assistance must be judged on its merits. While the interest of individual municipalities is of value, the responsibility of how the funds are to be allocated should remain where it belongs, with county council members, unencumbered by restrictions imposed by their municipal councils.

Roots

Options for seniors

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

The 181 municipal and charitable homes for the aged operating in 1980 had a total bed capacity of 27,968. Total provincial expenditures reached $102 million, $25 million for municipal and charitable homes respectively. Theoretically, homes for the aged were intended to provide residential and extended care living arrangements, but they often find themselves addressing the needs of residents for four hours of care and beyond. Funding remains fixed for extended care at $39 per day regardless.

Inadequate funding perhaps most directly affects charitable homes for the aged administered by such non-profit groups as ethnic organizations, service clubs and church groups. Charitable homes comprise 94 of the 192 homes for the aged in Ontario. These homes often over-extend their financial resources to continue caring for the elderly from their own spiritual and cultural communities. They receive no provincial deficit funding. (Municipal homes administered by community boards receive provincial deficit funding up to 70 per cent with the municipal contribution 30 per cent).

Options in community living

Does the clamour for institutional beds represent a desire to live in an institutional setting? While 30 per cent of the elderly over age 85 will need institutional care, it can be assumed that the vast majority of the "young" and "middle" years elderly would choose living supports within a community setting until such time as institutional care is needed. What options are available?

A program in the Ottawa region presents a picture of options necessary to keep the elderly out of institutional settings as long as possible, and is based on a home support program saving taxpayers a lot of money. An expenditure of $2.5 million annually would, it's been calculated, save $18.8 million a year for new hospital beds six years from now. Confirming Queen's University longitudinal studies regarding chronic home care, the Ottawa finding is that a home care program delays admission to a nursing home by eighteen months to two years.

The Ottawa comprehensive model also has the following elements: 1) mobile teams of medical practitioners to serve rural areas; 2) four consulting geriatric specialists to work with area physicians and the mobile teams; 3) four hospital units where the elderly can go during the day while living at home; and 4) six beds in chronic care hospitals for "respite care".

Without funds to make the program workable, Ottawa will need 800 more chronic care and nursing home beds by 1990, costing $30 million per year. Spending $2.5 million on the program provides options for Ottawa's elderly which are economical and humane.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

About this time of year, my mouth starts watering at the thought of fresh garden produce. Unfortunately, if the Canadian Government has its way, my summer garden may start losing its thrill, and its tomatoes, or possibly its corn.

Last November the Canadian delegation to a meeting of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization in Rome helped defeat a motion to ensure the preservation of disappearing agricultural crops. There's a long story, of course, filled with international politics and the power and profits of agribusiness. But like the Irish potato famine it has a potentially devastating conclusion and a simple moral.

The problem is that under today's agricultural strategy, the world is losing the wide variety of local plant breeds which have evolved over centuries. In favour of a smaller number of high yielding strains, and as the older crops die out we lose the genetic stock for developing new varieties. This dramatically increases the susceptibility of our food supply to agricultural disasters, such as pests and disease, and the need for heavy-duty chemical protection.

That's what happened when potato blight struck Ireland in 1845, where the

I am trying to re-unite twin sisters who have been separated for more than eighty years and would be most grateful if you would make their story public.

Eliza (on whose behalf I am working) and Harriet Flynn were born August 1st, 1901 in Hexham, Northumberland, England to Dorothy Ann wife of John Flynn, a plasterer. Shortly after birth Eliza was adopted privately. Harriet and her mother came to Canada round about 1912. Eliza, who still lives in Hexham is very anxious to find her long lost twin.

Through research in the U.K. it has been established that the last news of Harriet occurred in 1953 when she was reported to be living in Toronto with her husband and three children, 2 boys and a girl. Unfortunately there is no record of Harriet's husband's last name. It seems likely that Harriet and her mother may well have settled originally in the eastern provinces.

The ladies have an older half brother Billy McGarity who is known to have worked for C.P. in the early 1930s.

entire crop was descended from a handful picked up by Sir Walter Raleigh in his travels abroad. That's what we're risking by developing a domestic reliance on a few varieties of food crops, allowing commercial interests to monopolize plant patents and displacing old world crops with high yielding types bred in new world environments.

Some experts have voiced protest, including Pat Mooney of Brandon University, in Manitoba. However, it was not until the UN meeting last year that third world countries put some political muscle behind this concern. And so they should. Most of our food plants evolved from their genetic stock. Tragically, they have been giving it away only to witness its return as expensive hybrids which inevitably replace local varieties.

Why would Canada fight poor nations' demands for genetic conservation, laws governing plant exchanges and other corrective measures? Surely we have an interest in international co-operation, given our reliance on regular cross-breeding of wheat with foreign strains. The answer isn't clear, but it could well be the federal government's interest in legislating monopoly rights to plant varieties for Canadian breeders.

Naturalists often defend conservation proposals by citing the need to maintain an abstract-sounding principle called genetic diversity. As you can see from this story it's a very real and pressing issue and it's drawing more attention all the time. Last weekend, in Toronto, the Canadian Organic Growers held their first conference on this theme and the preservation of heritage seeds. They've also produced a seed catalogue. So there's some hope for gardeners like myself. But the issue demands far broader attention.

Over the past few years, I have been a strong proponent of any and every effort than can be made toward improving productivity in the public and private sectors in Canada. It is my firm belief that economic recovery must be built upon a strong foundation for it to be able to be sustained. Those countries which first realized this, Japan, Germany, etc., have been much better able to weather the most recent economic downturn.

As I have stated on several occasions, the government has as big a role to play as the private sector in improving productivity. On February 3, 1984, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce released its Report entitled, "Better Value For The Tax Dollar: Improving Productivity of the Federal Public Service". they define productivity in government as the total value of the services and programs provided compared with the amount of resources required to produce them. Their recommendations are as follows:

1) As a high priority, the federal government should introduce a program of sustained productivity improvement covering the entire public service.

The program should include two approaches: a) better design and control of programs; and b) better management and operating efficiency. Operating in a context of fiscal responsibility, the program should ensure that Canadians will receive better value for their tax dollar.

2. Political leaders, public servants and the public should all play a part in the productivity improvement program, which should therefore be designed to:

Improving productivity

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

- strengthen the political will to give productivity improvement a high priority and to make productivity - improving decisions;

- build on the strength that is within the public service; and

- generate private sector support through a better public understanding of initiatives already underway, of the aims of the program itself, and of productivity achievement of political leaders and public servants.

3. The productivity improvement program should be designed within the government by those knowledgeable about the characteristics and circumstances of departments, agencies, programs and systems.

4. Guidelines for designing a successful program should include recommendations;

- to approach the task broadly with the joint participation of political leaders and public servants.

- to use the best "brains" available at the political level and in the public service.

- to pursue "excellence" in the organization and processes of the public service.

- to build on current initiatives within the government for controlling expenditures and improving management and accountability.

- to re-examine and remove constraints that inhibit productivity.

- to improve or maintain the quality of service to the public.

- to announce productivity improvement targets publicly.

- to evaluate and publish results of the program.

5. The Canadian Chamber and its members should urge the government to adopt a productivity improvement program, should assist where possible, and should assess the results.

I agree with the Chamber's feeling that productivity improvement would help the government cope with its growing financial problems. These recommendations of the Chamber, if implemented, would go a long way toward improving the current situation.

from the chamber

A little over a year ago, a salesman by the name of Sid McLean solicited businesses in the Haliburton area for participation in a Telephone Directory cover. Advertisers were asked to put up a deposit of $200. No one has had any information from him since. If your company was one of the advertisers, please contact the Chamber of Commerce office today, as we are about to take action against him. This was not done through the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce but as some of our members are involved, we are trying to help.

Environment week

C.E.W. (Environment Canada Week) will be celebrated from June 3-9 1984. This is an opportunity to focus attention upon environmental issues and concerns on the national level and on the local scene. CEW is observed in June each year with the dates changing to incorporate June 6 which is World Environment Day.

A planning 'kit' is available from Environment Canada, Regional Director General, Ontario Region, 55 St. Clair Avenue East, 7th Floor, Toronto, Ontario, M4T 1M2 or telephone (416) 966-5840. The 'kit' offers some basic suggestions for CEW events and projects which could be developed to reflect our community.

Also available are hand films, slide shows and booklets on issues such as acid rain and pollution. Promotional items such as posters and public service announcements are presently being produced for distribution in March.

This might be a project for your school, cub/scout group or other interested group to consider participating in.

Costumes

Mindenites and all those committed to wearing 1850's apparel this year (the townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden are celebrating their 125th anniversary) - we have been able to obtain photocopies of the garments of that era. If you need some ideas, drop into the Chamber office Monday to Saturday, 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Perhaps you are looking for styles from the 1780's to celebrate Ontario's Bicentennial - we can also be of assistance there, in fact we can help you all the way back to 4000 B.C.

Trimmings

Is there anybody out there trimming extra tall cedar hedges? We would like to borrow the top 5-6 feet of your trimmings for the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce booth at the Sportsmen's Show, March 16-25. The idea is to bring a bit of the country to the city, to attract the vacation-minded visitors to the Highlands booth and to keep the host/hostess of the Chamber booth from getting homesick. It was agreed that rented potted palms would not be appropriate. Campbell's Garden Centre have offered us extra large pots to temporarily plant the evergreens in. Pines will also be considered.

Heart month

A belated Happy Valentines to all with this contribution from a brochure sent in by the Wunkers of Miner's Bay Lodge - "In designating February as Heart Month, the American Heart Society had in mind to focus attention on a vital organ that must be taken care of.

We may neglect the heart in that respect, but we give it plenty of attention symbolically and metaphorically. The word is used to designate the seat of love and vocalists warble about broken hearts, cheating hearts and lonely hearts.

You can experience a change of heart (not to be confused with a heart transplant), be heavy-hearted or lighthearted or endure heartbreak. Or possibly the diagnosis is that you are heartsick, cold-hearted or hardhearted.

If a child wants to emphasize the truthfulness of a statement, he solemnly affirms that he will cross his heart and hope to die if he is not speaking the truth. If he is found not to be telling the truth, he is likely to become engaged in a heart-to-heart talk with his mom or dad.

Being frightened is described as having your heart in your mouth.

We hope we have made you conscious of an indispensable part of you that needs your care and attention.

That's the real heart of the matter."

Summer Canada '84 Let's put tomorrow's work force on the job today.

Everyone knows that summer jobs give students a chance to earn money to continue their education. But that's just part of the story. Summer employment is also the best way to get the kind of experience that makes it easier to eventually find a full-time job. Employers who hire students help to develop skills that will benefit them in the future.

The Government of Canada will assist sponsors of Summer Canada Works projects with a contribution towards student wages and job-related overhead costs.

YOU CAN HELP TO CREATE JOBS FOR STUDENTS THROUGH SUMMER CANADA WORKS PROJECTS
Summer Canada Works projects provide productive employment for local students. Projects should employ at least three local students and should produce goods or services to benefit the community. All jobs must be full-time and must last between six and 18 consecutive weeks during the summer.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE FOR FUNDING?

Community and volunteer groups, professional and technical associations, most local governments and private sector employers are eligible for Summer Canada Works funding.

HOW TO APPLY

If your organization has an idea for a Summer Canada Works project, contact the nearest Canada Employment Centre or Employment Development Branch office of Employment and Immigration Canada for information and application forms. APPLICATION DEADLINE IS FEBRUARY 24, 1984.

Staff at the Canada Employment Centre can also give you more information about other Summer Canada programs and services. These include:

- SUMMER CAREER ACCESS a student wage subsidy program
- CANADA EMPLOYMENT CENTRES FOR STUDENTS a summer job placement service

Pair charged following chase

Two 17 year old youths have been charged following a police chase Monday evening (February 6).

According to the authorities, Constable Mike Maher noticed two youths entering a parked car in Haliburton Village at approximately 7:30 p.m. He attempted to stop the car, but it sped off toward Minden on Highway 121.

Constable Maher called ahead on his two-way radio and a second cruiser, driven by Constable Brian Dunham, was positioned across the highway blocking one of the lanes.

The fleeing auto attempted to swerve past the parked cruiser, however the rear wheel of the car struck the cruiser, bringing the chase to a halt.

The driver and passenger of the car were arrested. Charged with theft, possession of stolen property, dangerous driving and failing to stop for a police officer was Barry Fry of no fixed address. Charged with possession of stolen property and breach of probation was Richard Berry of Kinmount.

Constable Dunham was treated at Haliburton hospital for minor injuries. The auto, which was stolen from the Fenelon Falls area, sustained $3000 damage while the cruiser suffered $2200 damage.

Accidents

A driver and passenger sustained minor injuries when the car in which they were riding slid into a snowbank and flipped over.

Reunion

On October 15, 1954, the City of Toronto was devastated by Hurricane Hazel and was cut off from the rest of the countryside. 2nd Field Engineer Regiment, a militia unit with squadrons in Toronto, Hamilton and North Bay, was called out for active duty to aid the civil authorities. During the following days, the task groups from the Regiment assessed the structural capacity of over 250 bridges and demolished various damaged structures throughout the area surrounding Metropolitan Toronto.

To commemorate that event, the Regiment will hold a reunion in October 1984, the thirtieth anniversary of the disaster. Over the years, the Regiment has lost contact with many of the men and women who served with the unit in 1954. Any former members of the Regiment who wish to participate in the Hurricane Hazel reunion are asked to send their current address to Major M.J. Kitchen, 837 Legge Court, Newmarket, Ontario, L3Y 3J1.

The driver was 57 year old Colleen Riley of R.R. 1, Tory Hill while the passenger was William Riley, 58.

The mishap occurred February 7 on Highway 503 east of Irondale.

The investigating officer was P.C. Wesley.

Charge

A driver has been charged with careless driving following a mishap on Highway 121 near Haliburton Village. The accident occurred February 9.

According to police, a car driven by Vittoria Formica, 73 of Dysart Township was stopped making a left turn when it was struck from the rear by a car driven by Clifford Dawson, 63, of Haliburton. Dawson was charged.

Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $4400.

Constable Mike Legge investigated.

Icy conditions

Road conditions are being blamed for a two car accident February 11 on Highway 502 in Snowdon Township. Kai Schomberg, 75, of Kinmount, was driving his pick-up truck on the highway when a second vehicle, driven by James Jones, 17, slammed into the rear of it.

Damage was estimated at $3700.

The accident was investigated by Constable Mike Legge.

Horticultural meeting

The annual meeting and pot luck supper of the Minden and District Horticultural Society, was held on February 7, 1984, at the Minden United Church, with 38 in attendance to an excellent pot luck repast.

Our guests included, Rev. and Mrs. Westhaver, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, and Mr. Torry Hagervorst, secretary of the Horticultural branch of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, as the speaker for the evening. Due to illness, our remaining guests, deputy reeve Ed Pergolas, and Mrs. Pergolas, Miss Hazel Wilson district director for O.H.A. and Mr. and Mrs. L. Eaton were unable to attend.

After supper our speaker remarked on the significance of working for the future beauty and practical environment of the community, by working together with the same aim toward these efforts.

The election of officers then took place, followed by a short business meeting. The evening then concluded with entertainment, with songs and string accompaniment by Shirley Colliss and Norma Burke. A most enjoyable and appreciative ending to a good night. Our thanks to all those whose help and devotion made this night, once again, a success.

Grant supports gardeners

The Happy Community Gardeners of Haliburton have been awarded a grant under the New Horizons program in the amount of $8,310. This is to form an organization of retirees, students, residents of Extensicare and people in the community who are interested in gardening.

Activities will be planned around the growing of annuals, the planing to perennials, garden shows and town beautification, education, intergenerational gardening, general membership meetings and the occasional social get-together.

President of the group is Robert Morrow.

4-H organize

4-H Clubs will be organized in Haliburton County this spring.

4-H is for young people between the ages of 12 and 21, as of January 1, 1984. Members care for a selected project over the summer and exhibit at the 4-H Club Achievement Day.

4-H has been a successful program in the County in the past. We are looking forward to an exciting year in 1984.

Projects available this year are horticulture, swine and goat.

A big person in the 4-H Program is the Club Leader. The leader is a volunteer who helps in organizing and running the 4-H club. He or she provides guidance and instruction to the 4-H members. The leaders co-operate with the local Ministry of Agriculture and Food staff in administering the 4-H Program.

4-H Leaders are needed to help out with the 4-H Program.

If anyone is interested in a challenge working with young people, please call Hazel Elliott, R. R. 2, Haliburton, at 457-2683, or Maurice Bradley of Harcourt, at 448-2850.

We would be pleased to have your assistance as a 4-H Club Leader.

More information will be provided at a later date on the 4-H program in the County.

Vials of life

by Marie Wallace
Co-ordinator

The Canadian Red Cross Society (Minden Branch) sponsors a program known as "Vials of Life" and Home Support volunteers are assisting in the distribution of these vials.

What is it? The "Vial of Life" program provides life-saving information in your home or car in case of a sudden illness or accident. It's for everyone, especially for those living alone, parents who leave their children at home with baby-sitters and non-English speaking immigrants. We want every senior in Haliburton County to have at least one of these "Vials of ator has been chosen because it is easily accessible and offers protection against fire and everyone has one.)

Why is this information vital? Nurses and doctors in the emergency departments need this vital information. When they receive it in the vial they can go to work immediately to save your life, instead of asking you for the information when you may not be well enough to answer.

You should have two vials, one in your refrigerator and one in the glove compartment of your car. Make sure the sticker "with the red cross" or "Vials of Life" is displayed on the refrigerator door and on the windshield of your car. These Vials of Life are issued 'free' and you may receive them by dropping in to the Home Support office located in Haliburton on Maple Street across from Emmerson Lumber, or telephone me at 457-2941.

Don't forget, if you have two vials already - keep them updated, that is important.

How does it work? It's simple! You fill out the form regarding the name of your doctor, medical insurance number and medications, allergies, etc. This information is placed in a vial or pill bottle and fastened to the underside of a prominent shelf in your refrigerator where it will be easily found by rescue personnel if the need arises. Calf weight is important

- Ag report -

How much do your beef calves weigh when they are weaned?

Through the Victoria County Weaning Weight Program in 1983, 429 calves in 15 different cow-calf operations were weighed, and adjusted to a 200 day weight. The average adjusted weight on these calves was 514 pounds.

The three herds with the highest average weights, had an average calf weight of 590 lbs. The lowest three herds had average calf weights of 447 lbs. That's a difference of 143 lbs. per calf. And with the prices received for stocker calves last fall, that meant a difference of over $100 income per calf between the high and low herds.

Certainly there were a number of differences in the types of animals, and in the management of the herds on these farms, which would create this range in weaning weights. Plans are being made to gather more management information on the herds involved during 1984, to help identify ways beef cow-calf producers can improve their weaning weights.

The weaning weight program is a project of the Victoria Cattlemen's Association. Any beef producers in Victoria County interested in participating in 1984 should contact their Township Director or the Lindsay Agricultural Office.

Publications available

The Ontario Ministry of Agriculture & Food publishes several important booklets for farmers which are updated on an annual basis. The 1984 editions of these publications are available now at all County Agricultural Offices, and at many farm supply outlets.

Field Crop Recommendations for 1984 - Publication No. 296 - has information on varieties, fertilizers, insect and disease control and crop management suggestions, for corn, forages, cereals, beans and canola.

The 1984 Guide To Chemical Weed Control - Publication No. 75 - has the latest recommendations for weed control in field and horticultural crops, and on roadsides and non-crop areas. The various chemicals licenced for farm use are outlined with details on how they are formulated.

The '83-'84 Insect and Disease Control In The Home Garden - Publication No. 64 - is an excellent guide for anyone planning a garden.

The Ontario Farm Account Book is available to farmers at your Agricultural Office. This book has been revised in the past couple of years, and is now one of the best record systems available for farmers. It is easy to maintain, information in it is handy to find, and at the end of the year, your farm income tax return can be quickly prepared, and a farm business analysis can be obtained.

These publications are available free of charge. Persons wishing a copy should arrange to pick them up at the nearest location where they are available.

Isn't this weather awful? We're not going to say it's raining a lot, but we did hear of someone in the Minden area building an ark!

We received a letter from our friend Yvonne Guida and rather than place it in letters to the editor section, we decided to share it with all of you - the poem was written specially for Mrs. N.M. Holliday-Rhodes in England who wrote a short time ago deploring the lack of Yvonne's poetry.

Flame of Freedom
The Olympic Fire
Burns and glows
Over all humanity.
Within its flame Shines the true light of friendship -
Friendship for all Mankind.
Hate and bigotry forgotten
This is the true meaning Of love -
Love of man for his brother
Not race or creed or colour
Can dispell
The magnificence
Of this proud sport.
We do not have to speak
Our foreign tongues.
Youth stands beside youth
Knowing he is the best
In all that was meant to be
And stronger than the rest.
If nations could only see
Within the mind of man
The fertility
And creative sport
The free competition that dwells

In athletes' minds,
Not hate!
There would be no need for atom bombs!

Yvonne Guida

Don't forget to visit the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden - the exhibition of Dr. Jamieson's paintings and the local quilts is well worth seeing. Didn't realise we had so many talented people in this area.

Mr. & Mrs. Phil
Robinson and Mrs. King travelled to Lindsay last Thursday visiting with friends and relatives.

Mr. Bradley Robinson of Toronto was home for the weekend visiting his parents Phil and Florence Robinson of Minden.

Winners at the weekly card party held at St. Paul's Anglican Church last Thursday were, for cribbage
Joyce Hewitt and Dora Dawson, for euchre - lone hands, Freda Harrison.
Others, Diane Barnes and Jeanne Sears.

The general meeting of the Agricultural Society will be held downstairs in the municipal building at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday February 22.

We had a birthday party for Mrs. Knight her years are ninety nine, she is a dear lady and everything turned out fine and we were served a real nice lunch, with a cup of tea. Many came to congratulate her which was very good to see. This is not all she won, Monday morning down at fun and fitness playing bucket ball.

In the Chapel service
Sunday night, Rev. Burgess spoke about the devil. He said this is a subject I don't like to discuss but once in a while I feel I really must. He said if you resist the devil and live a Godly life. The devil can't cause you any great strife.

We have Lola Prentice back after her stay in hospital we hope when she rests a while she will get fit as fiddle. Monday night Linda showed movies for us to view, Helicopter Canada part one and two.

Tuesday morning Rev.
Elliott of Minden Anglican Church, conducted a communion service in the chapel, this Tuesday, Fred Ballard came the music to play. We thank them both for coming, we would like to say.

Tuesday afternoon we played the Quiz game all the way through, to answer some of the questions was really hard to do.

Tuesday night Daryl Crowe came alone to Hyland Crest, entertained just royally gave us of his best. Daryl really has the touch. Thank you for coming, we enjoyed you very much.

Congratulations to Wayne Cox who works here on being elected president of the Minden Agricultural Society for the third year.

Took a stroll down to the craft room this Thursday afternoon to see what they were doing, and sit awhile and spoon, some were knitting afghans, others making dolls, some fitting them with the cutest overalls.

Wednesday night, Earle and Kathy came all the way from Grass Lake entertained us royally. They sure have what it takes. They played fine music on fiddle, mandolin and accordion.
We thank them both for coming - a job well done.
